Joseph Ernest PROBST

MIDWAY'S HONORED CITIZEN

Joe Probst
Midway's Honored Citizen

Joseph Ernest Probst was born in Midway, Utah, the oldest of 8 children, on January 9, 1896 to Ernest and Emma Kohler Probst.

He was raised in a loving home where his father and mother taught their children that frugality, honesty and work were most important.

Joe attended the schools of the day; grade school, high school in Heber and one winter at the B.Y.U. in Provo in 1915. Also a winter was spent in Logan at the Agricultural College. He studied Veterinary Science and used his knowledge for many years helping neighbors doctor their cattle and horses.

At an early age, probably ten, he turned the washing machine for his mother to earn $3.75 and bought his first calf from his Grandpa Kohler. Joe has been in the livestock business ever since. His early twenties were spent farming and hauling milk to the cheese plant in Heber, and hauling meat and produce to Park City with Albert Kohler.

He served a mission to the Northwestern States for the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints in 1922 to 1924.

Joe married Garnet Watkins in the Salt Lake Temple on January 6, 1926. They had 3 children; 2 sons, Calvin, who lives in Charleston, and Wayne, who lives in Midway, and a daughter, who died at birth. They have 8 grandchildren and 3 great-grandchildren.

Joe has served his community and church well throughout his life. He served as President of Midway-Charleston Cattleman's Association for nearly 26 years. He was elected Mayor of Midway in 1933 and served until 1938. While Mayor, they got a PWA loan to rebuild the Midway water system. There were only outside water hydrants at this time. Also started the concrete sidewalks.

Joe has served as a Director of Midway Irrigation Company and was one of the original Directors of the Midway Boosters.

In the early thirties, he, along with Guy Coleman and August Kohler, were able to get the Forest Service to build a road over the mountains into Deer Creek so wood could be hauled out.

Joe was one of the originators and served as a director of Federated Milk Producers, which is now Western General Dairies.

He has served two stake missions and has served with his wife Garnet from 1961 thru 1962 in the Central States Mission. Joe has been Sunday School Supt., YMMIA President, as well as a teacher in these organizations. From 1937 to 1945, he served as a counselor in the Midway 2nd Ward Bishopric. He has been a temple worker in the Salt Lake Temple and with his wife in the Provo Temple.

Joe has a strong testimony of the truthfulness of the Gospel and at the age of 86, he with Garnet, enjoy life and are interested in their children and their lives.

birthday dinner at Valley Lunch (Scrappy's) in Charleston. When she had finished visiting her loved ones here she to see her husband Joseph Probst. Revival techniques failed to bring her back for she had chosen to stay.

82 years of faithful service to her parents, sisters, friends, relatives, to community, church and God. She taught her children Calvin and Wayne, through sickness and health, which way to go and how to get there. For which all are blessed.
